LIZARDS IN SAMOA.

The Way They Shed Their Tails and Peel the Kittens.

A writer of Samoa writes in an interesting way of the lizards, little fellows about two inches long, prettily colored in a light and dark shade of brown. They can run up a window pane quite as easily as can the flies on which they feed.

"When alarmed, the lizards are off like a flash of light and will take the most reckless leaps. I have seen them land safe at the end of a twenty foot jump. Yet when cornered they have no hesitation in snapping off the most of their tails.

"That was a maddening puzzle to my small cat. The sight of a mo'o anywhere was an immediate challenge to the kitten. She would immediately start on the hunt, for the most part a fruitless chase, for the little lizard could skulk off faster than two cats could pursue. Yet when the kitten did succeed in landing on the lizard there followed a scene of bewilderment. The mo'o invariably snapped off its tail, which was left wriggling in one part of the veranda, while the lizard ran off a short distance and awaited developments.

"The kitten never knew whether to catch the lizard or the tail. If the mo'o moved, the kitten went for it, but she always stopped short to keep an eye on the wriggles of the tail. As soon as she turned back to take care of the tail the mo'o got in motion and had to be looked after. Hundreds of times I have watched the dilemma, and the ending was always the same—the lizard got away and the kitten had to be content with the bony tail. But there were lots of lizards about my house sprouting new tails."—Youth's Companion.

Mr. Joseph Pomerville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief, was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. DOES GOLD GROW?

Seems to, in its Wild State, but Not After It Has Become Civilized.

Some reasons for answering this question in the affirmative are given by "Popular Mechanics," which warns the reader, however, that he must not expect to grow gold eagles from dollars. Says the writer:

"It has been found that gold nuggets under favorable conditions actually increase in size. Gold is known to have grown on mine timbers which have long been immersed in mine water. In the California State Mining Bureau museum there is a specimen of a piece of jointed cap and post taken from the Comstock, where it had been under water for years, in which gold has formed in the joints and pores of the wood. Gold is constantly being formed in rocks and veins and placers. Just what it is that the baby gold formation feeds on to effect its growth is not known. If it were, a new and wonderfully lucrative industry might be born, and all other kinds of farming save the growing of gold might temporarily be abandoned. The formation and growth are due to mechanical and chemical action. As in the case of the animal or vegetable the gold has existed in some other state before assuming its present form. Waters which percolate through the earth's crust are said to contain substances from which gold is formed. Thus gold, like the animal and vegetable, must have water in order to thrive. The gold in the water is deposited when it meets the proper precipitant. The precipitant may be an earth current of electricity, some vegetable growth or chemical in the rocks. It has been claimed that the nuggets found in placers are the formations from the waters that percolate through the gravels, and are not from decomposed quartz, as generally supposed. Those who so contend cite the fact that in the center of nuggets can be often found a small grain of iron sand. This was the nucleus around which the earth current of electricity created or deposited in electroplating. During long ages this influence was at work causing the gold to form around the little grain of iron ore and then grow to become a bright, shining nugget of gold much larger and purer than any ever found in the veins of ore."

THE FEMININE FIB.

A Judicious Blend of Black, White, Gray and Chinese Lies.

A distinguished preacher once divided lies into "black lies, white lies, gray lies and Chinese lies." The feminine fib is generally a judicious blend of the white lie and the Chinese lie. For the benefit of those who have never graduated in the special mendacity tripos it may be explained that a Chinese lie is, as a rule, purely ornamental, being of the nature of embroidery, which is intended to add beauty and color to the plain object on which it is used as trimming.

The Chinese lie is prompted by the very highest and noblest of motives—namely, a desire to give pleasure to others, many a plain, dull fact being served up and made quite tasty and appetizing by a little judicious garniture of Chinese—or embroidery. Directed into the proper channel, a Chinese liar becomes a skillful writer of fiction and turns her gift to profitable account. But the everyday feminine amateur, who has not this outlet for her taradiddle talent, turns her attention to the afternoon tea table and adds a spice to whatever gossip is going by a gentle peppering of fibs.

Unfortunately this gift of imagination is often accompanied by a defective memory, whereas to make a good—or-prevaricator nothing is so essential as a good memory. Without this the employer of the Chinese method is almost certain to get found out sooner or later—generally sooner—and then she has the mortification of finding that her little efforts to please quite fall in their effect. And not only that; but, what is more trying still, she even finds that when from lack of material for fictional purposes she does for once serve up the cold, ungarlish truth her hearers have so got in the habit of disbelieving her that her plain statement is received with incredulity. That is why any one who aims at distinction in the fibbing world must carefully cultivate a good memory and so follow the Golden Rule to avoid being found out.—Modern Society.

A Lost Fee.

Dr. Hunter, the famous English physician, invariably received very large fees for his services. On one occasion when he was asked by a lady the amount of his fee he informed her that he made an invariable practice of never fixing its amount. "Very well, sir," the patient promptly answered, "if you cannot fix it I am sure I can't." And, to the doctor's consternation, she walked out of the room without paying him a penny.

The Political Habit.

"Miss Roxley," began the young politician, "or—Maude, I love you. I—" "Oh, this is so sudden!" she exclaimed. "But surely you must have guessed. I have been calling here so much of late."

"Ah, yes; but, since you are a politician, I thought your visits were 'without significance.'"—Philadelphia Press.

Provident.

The Cook—Would ye mind giving me a recommendation, ma'am? The Mistress—Why, you have only just come. "But ye may not want to give me wan when I do be leaving."—Life.

The day after he asks her to marry him she goes around the house and takes inventory of the gimcracks which he has and which she can take with her.—Acheson Globe.

FORTUNES FOR TWO.

The Way Russell Sage Paid a Doctor Who Refused a Fee.

A former Baltimorean who was a close friend of a Philadelphia physician whose specialty was kidney diseases relates the following as the method by which Russell Sage paid the doctor a bill:

The physician was on a visit to a friend in New York. Mr. Sage was very ill at his home from a diseased kidney. Hearing that the Philadelphia doctor was in New York, Mr. Sage requested him to call. The doctor did so, and within ten days Mr. Sage was a well man. A check, signed by Mr. Sage, with the amount left blank, was handed the doctor, who declined it, stating that he could not break his inviolable rule of confining his practice strictly to office work. When he visited people who were too poor or physically unable to get to his office he never accepted pay for his services.

During his visits to Mr. Sage's home the doctor was accompanied by his daughter, a winsome miss of ten years. About a month after the occurrence the doctor's little daughter received a telegram from a Wall street broker which read: "By order of Mr. Russell Sage, I have bought for your account—shares of—stock." As soon as the doctor read the dispatch he hurried to a Philadelphia friend, who was a broker, and ordered him to buy—shares of the stock mentioned for his (the doctor's) account. The stock fluctuated, and when it was selling at a price which would pay a good profit the broker advised the doctor to sell, but the doctor did not take the advice. Later a dispatch came from the New York broker to the little girl. It read: "Have sold for your account—shares of—stock." The doctor immediately unloaded his holdings. These transactions were repeated several times and not only made the doctor a small fortune, but won for him a reputation as a shrewd financier. A final telegram came from New York for the little girl: "Have closed out your holdings and mail you a check for—thousands." The doctor unloaded and dropped out of the stock market as suddenly as he had entered it, much to the mystification of his broker and friends, who had heard of his successes, but never knew whether to attribute them to a "Henrietta" luck or to careful study of the stock table in—Baltimore Sun.

CARRARA QUARRIES.

How the Men Set About to Lower the Fragments of Marble.

As soon as a great fragment of marble detached by the blast has stopped rolling it is more or less roughly squared into a block weighing, say, forty tons.

Then the men set about getting it down. Along certain lines of descent offering the least resistance to a body descending by force of gravitation a succession of stout posts has been firmly driven into the loose stones and marble waste. The men by means of crowbars and screw jacks raise the block on to a soaped skid of hard beech wood, of which they have several at hand. Before doing this they secure the block by means of three long three to five inch hempen cables, with which they take turns around the posts and pay out sufficient rope only to allow of the ponderous mass sliding over the soaped skids by its own weight and the angle of the incline, but not to allow of its gaining too much momentum.

During this descent, besides the men talking on to the ropes, two or more men are seated on the block. A man following closely in its wake hands them up the skid just passed over, which they resoap and hand down to a man, who keeps just in front of the moving mass, to put down in its path and so provide a continuous slipway. This last mentioned worker has the most perilous task. If one of the cables part at a critical moment or if a mistake be made in paying out or slackening them, he must inevitably be crushed.

It is a fine sight to see the men at the last pinch, near the railroad, hand levering the marble over rollers on to the truck. At this stage all hands are yelling like demons at their work, but the moment their burden is safely entrained every man flings down his tool, and all bolt for the osteria, or wine-shop.—Pearson's Magazine.

Baldness Not Due to Modern Fashions.

The human race was afflicted with baldness and toothlessness centuries before white flour was known. It is possible that both these afflictions are less prevalent now than in the olden times. All the olden time pictures and statues of the dead races showed up a good percentage of bald heads, and tooth pulling and filling and even artificial toothmaking were practiced away back in history. Out of the ruins of Pompeii and Herculaneum are taken whole sets of false teeth along with loaves of bran bread.

The Ideal and the Real.

Uncle Joe—This is a queer world. City Man—What makes you think so? Uncle Joe—Well, a painter feller came down to my place last summer and while he was looking about painted a picture of my dog. I heard afterward that he sold it for $50, so I brought up a dog, thinking I could get at least a cool $100 for him; but, by jingo, I can't even give him away!

Streamless Society Life.

Dorothy—Six luncheons in one week! Did your gowns hold out? Isabel—Yes, indeed. But I hadn't any conversation for the last two days.—Puck.

In the course of a century an acre of constantly cultivated land loses no less than 12,000 pounds of alkali.

ALL ON FIRE

A Jacksonville Citizen Tells How Relief Came.

Ever have eczema. Have any itching skin diseases. Itching almost drives you crazy. You feel "all on fire." Doan's Ointment brings quick relief. And all itchingness of the skin.

Mrs. Hance, of 373 East College avenue, says: "It is a pleasure to recommend a remedy of such great value as Doan's Ointment. From experience I pronounce it specific for any irritation of the skin. I used it as a healing medium and as a soothing. I never found its equal. I happened to see a notice in our daily what this ointment was for and next day going to Dr. H. Lee Hatch's drug store I procured a box. The first two or three applications benefited me and long before I had used the entire box the irritation ceased."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milbur Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

TOO GREAT A RISK.

In almost every neighborhood some one has died from an attack of cholera or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

READ THIS.

Jacksonville, Ill., Sept. 25, 1902.—Nearly three years ago, with a second attack of serious illness, I was surprised to learn that I had diabetes. Providentially I was led to procure a bottle of Dr. E. W. Hall's Specific for Kidney and Bladder Troubles, known as A TEXAS WONDER. Less than half of the $1.00 bottle effected a complete and permanent cure. Consequently I believe it to be a medicine of very great value. I. B. Kent, Evangelist.

A FARMER STRAIGHTENED OUT.

"A man living on a farm near Here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Potters Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for future cured me.'" For sale by all druggists.

WOMAN'S DUTIES.

A woman who keeps her house in order and has the care of a family, has just as much responsibility as the man who provides the means to carry on the housekeeping. She is deserving of the more credit since the demands of her strength is greater. The everlasting sameness about her duties and the confinement necessary to carry them out is very trying to the nervous system, this produces a strain on the mind that makes her irritable, cross, and dissatisfied, which is just as much a disease as rheumatism or catarrh. If the nerves can be built up and made strong by medicine of some kind, this feeling is changed to one of cheerfulness and pleasure in her duties. The medicine that makes strong, steady nerves and prevents disease by building up the entire system, is Dr. Gunn's Blood and Nerve Tonic, a tablet to take at meal time. Cures nervous prostration by making rich red blood, feeds the nerves, and making solid flesh at the rate of 1 to 3 lbs. per week. This medicine is sold by druggists for 75 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $2.00, or sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of price. Write us about your case. Address, Dr. Gunn, Philadelphia, Pa. For sale by Lee P. Allcott.

Conservatory hall Miss Edna Louise Collins, of the Conservatory of Music, gave her solo recital Friday evening. Miss Collins is a pupil of Prof. Walter Howe Jones, who has studied with him four years, and in her excellent work Friday evening, proved a credit to Professor Jones and the Conservatory and to herself. Her selections were of the most difficult nature and in her rendition of them Miss Collins showed a completeness of technical equipment and an admirable interpretation that surprised even her warm admirers. Her artistic rendition of Liszt's Liebestraum drew forth most favorable comments from any other of her numbers and was given in a manner seldom equaled by pianists high in the musical profession. In her work Miss Collins showed great musical talent, which, combined with hard conscientious study promises to give her a high position in the musical world. She was ably assisted in her recital by Miss Lucile Thompson, reader. The following program was rendered:

Soleil et pluie in C major.....Bach
Sonata Op. 2 No. 2.....Beethoven
Allegro Largo Scherzo Rondo.....Liszt
The Prodigal Son.....Davis
Miss Thompson.

Four poems.....MacDowell
The Eagle, the Brook, Moonshine, Winter.....The Eagle, the Brook, Moonshine, Winter
Liebestraum No. 3.....Liszt
Concerto Op. 18.....Raff
Andante Fante.

Orchestral part on second piano by Prof. Jones.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Friday evening, May 8, at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Strawn, east of the city, a very delightful evening occurred in honor of the tenth birthday anniversary of their daughter, Miss Mabel. The house was beautifully decorated with lilacs and snow balls. About eighty guests were assembled. The young people enjoyed themselves in dancing, playing cards and other amusements until the early hours of the morning. Music was furnished by the Woods string band. Delightful refreshments were served. The main feature of the evening was the cutting of the birthday cake. Charles Strawn won the prize, a silver ring. The very high esteem in which the hostess is held was proven by the many beautiful and useful presents which the young lady received. Among these present from a distance were Misses Hattie Wheeler, of Sinclair; Ethel and Cecil Funk and Marie Leck, of Jacksonville; Jessie Ferguson, of Woodson, and Elmo Ward, of Jacksonville; Mrs. Jacob and Harry Strawn, Walter and Earl Wheeler, of Sinclair; Newton Winterbottom, H. Brooks, Cady Clark and Robert Covington, of Jacksonville, and Ed Ferguson, of Woodson.

THE BROAD-AX.
Having read the mayor's address to the city council I would like to say a few words in regard to the "broad-ax." Instead of saying bad luck to the one that brought it, say blessed is the man that will adopt the meaning of it, which is to hew rough places, to smooth and make beautiful. I think it a good thing for the council to have us say that, and let all mistakes, keep in order all had places, and give the city the best administration we have ever had.

THE DEATH RECORD.

DEARBOURN.
Mrs. G. S. Russell has received word of the recent death of her uncle, Dr. Samuel Dearborn, of Nassau, N. H. He was advanced in years and eminent in his profession. He visited the west a number of times and was well known to a number here.

BRIDGEPORT.
Walter Brockhouse died at his home near Bluffs Friday night at 9 o'clock. His death was due to typhoid pneumonia, which just three weeks ago took from that home the father who was sick only a short time. The deceased was 24 years of age and was a young man exemplary in his habits and highly respected by his fellowmen.

The funeral will be held this morning at 11 o'clock.

BAGGS.
Thomas C. Baggs, aged 45 years, 6 months and 7 days, died at his home near Ashland Friday.

Mr. Baggs is survived by his wife and five children, one son and four daughters; his father, one brother, P. C. Baggs, one sister, Mrs. T. W. McGough, all residing near Ashland.

The funeral will be held to day.

Y. M. C. A. MEETINGS.

AT THE GRAND.
A good-sized audience was at the matinee Saturday afternoon and all were well repaid for attending. In the evening the bill was "Bound by Honor," a play full of strong situations, which were well portrayed by the performers. As an emotional actress Miss Emma Forester is excellent and on this occasion she rose grandly to the demands of the piece. She was well supported by the other members of the company, all of whom acquitted themselves with credit. As Col. Victor Blanchard George Butler scored a decided success and Charles R. Phipps as Col. Dudley Middleton was in no way inferior. The specialties were good and the company closed its week's engagement with a good name. The winners of the respective prizes were C. C. Bates, David Conrad and Roy Dunavan.

IS HE ACCOUNTABLE?
I read in the morning paper where L. B. McCarder had been sent to jail for larceny. Now, in the evening paper, I have been told there never was a drug victim but what would steal while under the influence. Now, would it not be better to try and elevate his condition than to cast him into jail and send him to some cure? Set him on his feet once more, then if he proves dishonest take the law to him.

Christians, here is work for you to day! will you do it? Missionary work right here at home. Raise the money in churches to day; send him to St. Louis or Jerseyville Monday, and I believe you will reap a reward for your work. The price for the cure of the drug habit is $15, but when done through charity he has taken much cheaper. "They have led me into darkness, but not unto light."

QUARTERLY MEETING.
The quarterly meeting of the New Berlin and Alexander circuit will held Saturday at Alexander. Rev. George Seringer, presiding elder, in the chair. This is the work in charge of Rev. Joseph Winterbottom and though greatly retarded by ill health he has retained a strong hold on the affections of both congregations and his efforts have been greatly appreciated. The presiding elder was announced to preach in Alexander at 3 p. m. Sunday.

WILL ORGANIZE UNION.
At a meeting held in this city Saturday afternoon preliminary steps were taken toward the organization of a branch union of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, permission for such action having previously been obtained from Percy Thomas, the associated president of the national organization. Another meeting will be held Monday when it is expected to perfect the organization, membership in which will be limited to operators in Morgan county.

For low prices on handsome millinery you must go to Hoffman's.

POLICE NEWS.
R. Berry, Arthur Logan and Primrose Summerville were arrested by Captain Kennedy, Policemen Walker and J. C. Fernandes for disorderly conduct.

IMPROVEMENTS MANY.

Year Promises Well in Building Line—Various New Pavements Certain—The Trunk Sewer.

The city promises a marked permanent improvement in Jacksonville. The fact that building materials are considerably higher in price than was true in 1901 and 1902 has not discouraged building and in fact all parts of the city residences are to be seen in course of construction. While some of these are being built by the owners for their occupancy, the greater number are for rental purposes and simply represent investment in the city. The owners are hoping to realize fair returns.

Public improvements will keep pace with individual improvements and already a number of street pavements are certain, with others still "to be decided from." Sufficient signs have been secured to provide for the paving of Grove street from Diamond to Park; Westminster from College avenue to Grove; Prospect street from State street to Grove; and Park street from College avenue to Grove. These streets will add materially to the attractiveness of the Fourth ward and will connect one of the prettiest of Jacksonville streets, Grove, with the city center.

By four paved ways. It is certain that all or part of South Church street will be paved, although the petition for the improvement has not yet been filed. South Church avenue is being paved from the city center to the Morton avenue and bids have already been received for the construction of the Pine street pavement from State street to Lafayette avenue.

By the most important improvement projected is the beginning of a trunk sewer, for which provision was made in the regular appropriation ordinance by the city council. As is generally known, the purpose is to begin the construction of a trunk sewer just east of the city, where the brook and Mavalster creek unite. The line of construction will be along the brook extending as far west as Diamond street. It will be of course possible to build only one section of this sewer this year, as the work is very expensive. The need of the improvement, however, has been recognized for years and the work will be done for all time. As it is now when a heavy rain comes the sewers are unable to carry off the water and the caps are simply raised from the manholes and the water runs into the streets. But this trouble is of course only minor in comparison with the fact that the present sewers are so small that they do not accommodate fully the sewage under ordinary conditions. The trunk sewer will be six feet in diameter, constructed of brick and its capacity will be such as to be ample for all the matter discharged into it from the laterals. So much was done in the way of public improvement during the last two years and so much is projected that Mayor Davis administrations are certain to be distinguished in time to come as years of permanent improvements.

MISS THOMPSON INJURED.
An article in the Chicago Tribune states that Miss Lena R. Thompson while driving on Grand avenue with a friend was thrown from the trap in which they were riding and sustained a fracture of the right arm.

The young ladies were driving a gentle horse, but the carelessness of a chauffeur in handling his automobile as he came speeding toward them, caused his machine to run almost into the horse, catching one side of the trap nearly overturning it. The horse became frightened and while running made the turn at the corner of the block, causing the vehicle to strike the building and overturn.

As to overturning the young ladies with great force against the stone pavement. They both received serious wounds in the head and were unconscious for several hours. The extent of their injuries was not known at the time of the printing of the article. Miss Thompson is well known to a large number of young people of this city, as she was a student at the Woman's college three years ago. She is also to have been maid of honor at the wedding of Miss Nell Clark, of this city, in the near future.

Miss Clark was in receipt of a letter yesterday stating that the "Old Smoker" was getting along as well as could be expected and though her injuries are very painful there will be no serious results.

An elegant assortment of trimmings can be seen at Hoffman's this week.

NEW TELEPHONES.
The following new telephones have been added to the exchange of the Illinois Telephone company the past week:
